There will be a range of entertainment at the 18th Annual IPM Women's Day Convention 2012, at the ICC, on the 20th July 2012. Below is just a taste of the talent appearing on the day.

A Little Bit Of MO MAGIC.

"With his superb blend of talent, skill and persona, Mo Magic will leave you spellbound and enthralled throughout his dynamic presentations and performances. He is unlike any magician you've seen before. Combining the principles of science, sleight of hand, showmanship, illusion, psychology and audience participation, he is guaranteed to provide a one-of-a-kind experience."

Two Right Feet.

Shivani Kara, along with Eastern Moves Production will be lighting up our stage with Asian-styled dancing. “Eastern Moves is dedicated to sharing the rich and diverse culture of Bollywood in collaboration with other cultures, with a South African audience that is truly as esoteric as the art itself. It is committed to creating a professional platform for local artists of stature by exposing young designers, dancers, actors, singers and models, of South Africa, to achieve their dreams even as they aspire to attain international stardom.”

That’s The Spot.

“Return To Glory is a mobile spa and started in London (www.returntoglory.co.uk) and was brought to South Africa in 2007. They have mobile massage and beauty specialists in Durban and Johannesburg. They come to you! Return To Glory is a concept that brings tip to toe massage and beauty to the cozy comfort of women's homes, offices and events. It‘s been a real hit with busy women, couples, corporates and stay at home mums (they are child and baby friendly). They do the traveling and you do the relaxing!”
